

ARTS AWARD WOW MOMENTS

WHO AM I? Elizabeth Kane learning officer

WHERE DO I WORK? The Customs House

WE WORKED WITH... Hebburn Lakes

OUR WOW MOMENT...

Returning to Hebburn Lakes to complete our second Arts Award project my wow moment was helping children develop their understanding of the need to plan, review and improve their artwork. They made fantastic illustrations.

OUR ARTS AWARD STORY

TOGETHER WE...

Completed an Explore AA inspired by Claudia's Sacher's exhibition 'The Secret of the Pattern'

AND NEXT...

We delivered a series of workshops at The Customs House and at Newcastle Prep School over a series of weeks. We research the Claudia and the organisation The Customs House.

FINALLY...

we has a share day completing Part D. We thought about everything we experienced & accomplished. One learner said, "I was surprised at how impressed people were with my Arts Award".

SHARE

“I loved making a Shakespeare Animation with Leslie it was really REALLY fun.”

SAY WHAT!

“I want to use the proper books next time.”
One participant had completed a Discover Arts Award using Trinity College’s Art Log Books. They preferred them to our bespoke art logs because they had stickers and were larger format.

You can see the children’s animation created with artist Leslie Anne Rose at <https://vimeo.com/206026137>

CELEBRATE

This is a project by the Learning and Participation Team at The Customs House with funders South Tyneside Council. Children cared for by South Tyneside Foster Carers can complete Arts Award projects. Our Spooky Shakespeare project ran for seven weeks and culminated in a celebration event in The Customs House Cinema. Children attained their Shakespeare Special Edition Arts Award.

“Seeing the kids film on in the cinema was great. Seeing their work on the big screen! You could tell they were excited. And really proud. It’s great because they should be proud they’ve worked hard. When they taught us how to make an animation you realised how much they’d done even though I wasn’t keen on being filmed. We’re looking forward to the next one!”
