

Culture Bridge North East's Let's Play with Musical Instruments with Fiona Glover 22.11.22

Resources/links from zoom chat

Music Development Matters by Nicole Burke. This is an excellent and comprehensive resource for anyone using music in the early years. You can download a free copy, and there is a supporting website, with lots of videos, and supporting materials, including a helpful list of instrument names here

Let's Play Early Years Resource Hub

Let's Play is Culture Bridge North East's early years hub. You will find lots of resources and information here.

Blogs and resources from Kate Maines-Beasley

Kate is Culture Bridge North East's EYFS Consultant, and leads on the Let's Play programme. She specialises in working with two year olds and families, and has been an early years music specialist since 2002. All of these resources can be used with 0- 5 age range and adults

Singing in the early years (3 part blog)

scrunchy play with downloadable songs

Lycra play in the early years with songs/activities

Video library from Take Art. Jane Parker has done great work for Take Art, and Fiona recommended this video library, as it is full of inspiring clips of musical play in action in the early years.

Singing games and rhymes in the early years by Lucinda

Geoghegan, NYCoS. This is an excellent book. Many of Fiona's songs have been taken from here.

Tiny Tunes Tuesday: Brilliant lockdown videos from Durham Music Service. There are 22 different songs here, each one is a short and accessible video, made for use by families with young children during the Covid-19 lockdown period.

Voices Foundation Resources: for training and advice around how to best work with singing voices with children in the early years and beyond.

EFT: tapping technique referenced by Ellen, which is known to help with stress, anxiety and trauma.
